

Fig. 2: Adamgarh microliths ( $\frac{3}{4}$ ). The specimens are made of white chalcedony if not stated otherwise. 1-5. Bottle glass microliths: 1. End scraper. 2. Point; the retouching is limited to the two anterior sides forming the points, and to the base. 3. Triangular point. 4. Point cum side scraper with a notch. 5. A glass piece with a point and fluting marks. 6-12. Fluted Cores: 6. Long red jasper core with ten flutings all over its body and a flat base. 7. Slaty jasper core with eight flutings and a flat base. 8. Fluted chalcedony core with longitudinal and transverse flutings. 9. Conical fluted core with round flat base. 10. Fluted core with obliquely truncated base. 11. Conical core. 12. Pointed fluted core. 13. Round disc of chalcedony. 14. Round scraper. 15. Point on a greenish red jasper. 16. Point on a red jasper flake. 17. Point. 18. Borer. 19. End flake with worked platform. 20. Blade with longitudinal ridge. 21-25. Points. 26-28. Blades.